DRUNK AGAIN

E. B. Hemphill

It is going the rounds that I was drunk on Sunday, June 3rd, 1917. I brand this as I did the one started at the time I attended the Great Council of the Red Men at Ashland on the 9th day of May, it is an absolute lie.

I came to Barbourville last Sunday morning and was around over the Streets and on the public square for some time, I then went to the Christian Church, where I attended Sunday School and was in Prof. J. M. Robson's class; I went from the Christian Church to Sol T. Steele's place on the west side of the Public Square, where I took dinner with Mr. Steele, I was on the streets until the Train came in about four o'clock p. m., I went home, went to bed.

On Monday morning I came to town, and the first thing to reach my ears was that I was "Drunk" Sunday. It was my friend who came and told me of this last lie started to try to defeat me for the Republican nomination for the office of Superintendent of Schools of Knox County, I am not guilty, and this is not all you will hear on me. They will tell you most anything, so believe not everything that you may hear, they believe that this is the only way to defeat me, but it will not work.

Yours truly,
E. B. HEMPHILL.

OIL NEWS

The Esmeldro Company, put the pump on their No. 3 well on the J. A. Campbell lease, Indian Creek, and it started pumping at the rate of sixty barrel per day, or better.

This well created a lot of excitement and a big advance in acreage in that locality, as it is new territory and will probably prove a nice pool of oil.

This Company made their location No. 4 on the Campbell lease, 400 feet south-west of their No. 3 well. The rig is up and spudding will be started this week.

The Southern Kentucky Oil Co., lost a bit in the well on the Sampson lease, and are fishing for it.

On the C. H. Bays, lease near Cannon, they have their rig up and are spudding. On the Fielding Hammons lease, Horn Branch, they have a fishing job at 350 feet. On the L. H. Jarvis, lease Goose Creek, they are shut down for repairs at 937 feet.

If you are interested in farming, call at our bank and get some bulletins written by experts on "Home Gardening", "Diversified Farming", "Apple Culture" and "Grasses".

We plan to furnish the farmers with one bulletin each month on timely farm topics during this year. Don't fail to get your copy.

WHEN, WHERE, HOW?

They will locate their other machine this week.

The Central Oil Co., have made a new location on the Anderson Le se, one fourth mile North of Barbourville, and removed their machine, they will start spudding Friday.

The Anderson No. 1 has been rigged up for pumping and will be started about Friday, will probably require about a week's pumping to get the water out of the sands, before you can judge the amount of oil that well will produce. It is estimated by experienced operators that this well will make a ten barrel pumper. It is 515 feet deep and had quite a bit of gas at that depth.

The Miller No. 1 near Bailey's Switch that has been shut down about ten days for repairs, started up again Monday Morning, and is now about 735 feet deep.

The Kentucky Oil & Gas Co's No. 1 on the Dutton Caleb farm, Calebs Creek, was completed at two thousand ten feet. It is a good gasser, estimated to be six hundred and forty two thousand feet gas per day. They had four showings of oil in this well, the first showing was at 1620 feet, the second showing at 1700 feet. The gas was found at 1620 and 1700 feet. This Company will make two more new locations next week.

The Knox Oil & Gas Co. are down about three hundred feet on their No. 2 well near Artemus in the Brush Creek, section. They have their tankage and pumping outfit on the ground for their No. 1 well, in that section, but have not started pumping on account of shortage of supplies for engine.

Stewart & Donald, have their machine on the Evans lease, two miles north of Barbourville, and will start drilling as soon as rigged up.

The Empire Fuel & Gas Co., have their second machine at Flat Lick, which they will locate on Brices Creek. It is reported that they have another machine on the road that they will take to that locality.

White Bros. have their rig up on No. 2 location, H. T. Brown Farm, Indian Creek, and will commence drilling Thursday.

Mr. T. M. Haines, of Newark, Ohio, is back in the field, and will probably start something for the Edward H. Everette's Company, within a few days.

The Ohio Oil Company have shut down for a fishing job, on the S. H. Jones lease near Girdler. They are also shut down on the Cole lease for repairs at Cannon.

Messrs Pollock and Co. have moved a rig to Meadow Creek, Indian Creek precinct, and will start drilling in a few days.

It is reported that two more machines are to go to that locality very soon.

Mrs. Eva B. Carroll, of Chicago, is in Barbourville looking after the interests of a new Company that will probably start operations in this field within the next sixty days as she has obtained some valuable territory south east of Barbourville which is proving to be some of the best in this country. Some five or six other companies have large holdings and are starting operations in earnest in that vicinity.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Carroll was down here in the fall in the interest of the Central Oil Co., and the Interstate Product Co. which she promoted.

Mr. Good Citizen:—

In spite of the fact that R. S. Rose put J. C. Bird through an examination on the first day of Circuit Court and showed to everybody in the crowded Court house that Mr. Bird doesn't know any law there are some who still say they think he does.

Of course there are some men who would vote for Mr. Bird even if they knew he couldn't write his name, or recite his A. B. Cs.

Maybe they are akin to him in about the 49th degree by blood or marriage; maybe they expect something from him should he be elected; maybe they belong to the gang and the boss of the gang owns them; maybe they have had an indictment dismissed, filed away or compromised against them or some of their "folks."

Of course none of these like to confess his reason for voting for Mr. Bird.

And it's easy to PROFESS that they believe that he knows some law.

Now, you may agree with a man about a fact—for instance, whether it is a fact that Mr. Bird does know any law.

But you can't argue with him about whether he BELIEVES a thing of not. He is the only person on earth who knows about that.

Especially is it idle to argue with a man whom, you know has his mind already made up to vote for Mr. Bird, right or wrong, either because he is akin to him or for some one of the other reasons we have mentioned and who is professing to believe him qualified simply because he is ashamed to give his real reason.

We have nothing to say to a man of that sort. It is time worse than wasted; and we have lived long enough to know the value of time.

But Mr. Good Citizen, if you have a sort of half belief that somehow, some way, and against all the evidences to the contrary, Mr. Bird does not know some little law, we would ask you this question: WHEN, WHERE AND HOW DID HE LEARN IT?

A man don't go to bed some night a commissary clerk and wake up next morning a lawyer, fit and qualified to discharge the great and important duties of Circuit Judge and to pass on and decide correctly the knotty questions which sometimes puzzle lawyers who have studied and practiced law for half a century.

It is said that Abraham Lincoln, great intellect that he was, read twenty-seven large volumes just to settle in his own mind ONE POINT IN LAW, and he had been practicing law for years before he did it. Did Mr. Bird ever read 27 law books in his life? Or is he a greater intellect than Lincoln?

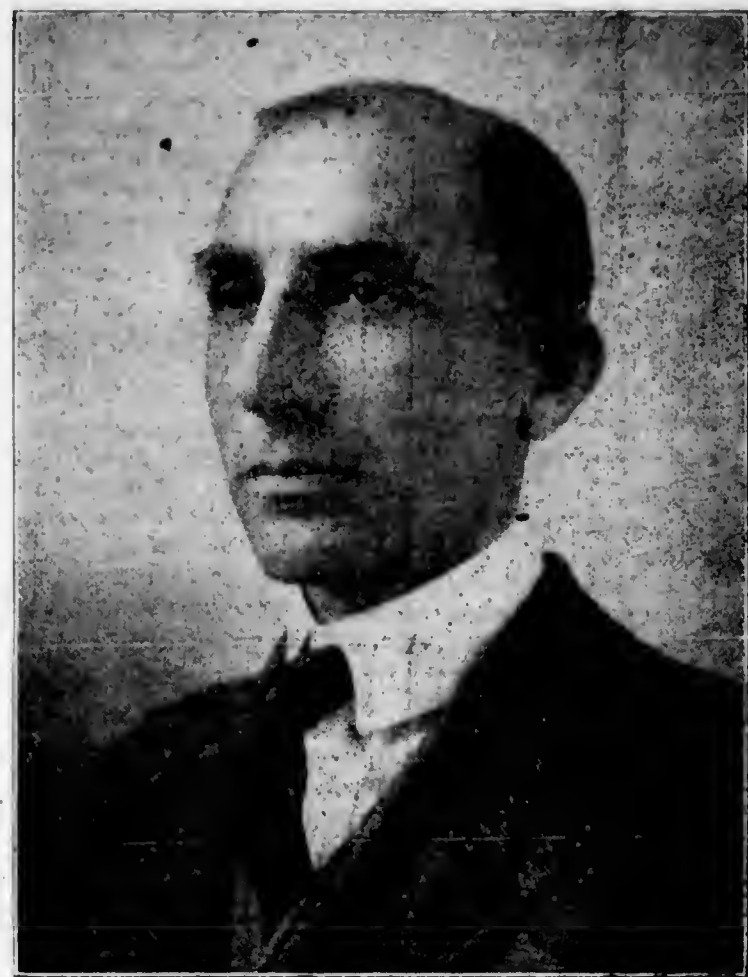

No man was ever qualified to discharge the duties of Circuit Judge properly without years and years of study of law books and years and years of practice at the bar.

Has Mr. Bird ever done that studying or had that practice? If so, when was it and where was it?

Mr. Bird was a clerk in one of the Departments at Washington. He worked at his desk in that Department during the day and attended law lectures at a sort of fly-by-night school after night.

If he did good, honest work at his desk during the day he was tired in mind and body and in no condition to study or learn law [Continued on last page]

Miners for Catron

J. Fred Catron

Whereas there appeared an article in the McCreary County Advocate purporting to be a resolution passed by the miners and laboring men of Knox County declaring themselves for W. R. Lay for Circuit Judge. Now we, the miners of Warren and Knox County, Kentucky, hereby state we did not pass any such resolutions, but on the other hand we are for J. Fred Catron for Circuit Judge and call upon all miners and laboring men of this district to vote for Mr. Catron as we know him to be our friend and a friend to the laboring man:

AM NOT NOW.

In last week's issue of the Advocate the picture of W. H. McDonald appeared on the front page which was suggestive that he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Clerk of the County Court.

He was a candidate for that place for sometime, and, but for the fact that he was misled, or matters were misrepresented to him he would yet have been a candidate. His friends from all over the county, both Republicans and Democrats are urging him to re-enter the race and run it out; they know or believe that he can win; they realize the fact that he is qualified to fill the place; that he would improve the office in many ways and would be a painstaking official; one who would see to it that no man came into the place that was not promptly waited on; and that their work would be done in a thorough business like manner.

McDonald, is not sure that he will enter the race, he is, however, in the hands of his friends, ready to serve them now as he has been in the past. Should it appear to him that he is the real choice of the majority of the voters of the county, he will then consider more seriously the matter of becoming a candidate. He is not yet sure as to his course in this matter, he does not want to get into a bitter fight for the place; as stated above he is in the hands of his friends, and will be governed accordingly. There is time yet to see the voters of the county. McDonald can call 90 per cent. of the voters of the County by their name, and at least that many know him. He is no stranger, he has been in every election for the past 25 years fighting the battles of his party, his people know him, and he knows them. If they believe that he should stay out of the fight, he is out, if they say come on in he is in, and in to the finish.

A Plea From France.

We have already recorded the President's decision not to accept the Roosevelt volunteer divisions. It is no time perhaps to indulge in regrets, but it is certainly interesting to record a plea which comes to us from France for the utilization of the material which we have thrown away. It appears in an open letter by Georges Clemenceau in "L'Homme" to President Wilson. It has been translated and printed in the New York "Times." In part it reads:

Allow me to say, in all candor, that at the present moment there is in France one name which sums up the beauty of American intervention. It is the name Roosevelt, your predecessor, even your rival, but with whom there can now be no other rivalry than heartening success.

Roosevelt was one of the greatest craftsmen in the great laborious work which will constitute your glory.

He wished to raise two volunteer divisions of infantry to be incorporated in our armies. The Senate and Congress did not withhold consent. If the law has charged you, Mr. President, with all the practical issues of the undertaking, it is no less true that Roosevelt represents a vast potential factor which a statesman is unable to overlook. Roosevelt cannot come alone, for his prestige on our battlefields demands that he come with the prestige conferred on him by his countrymen. I claim for Roosevelt only what he claims for himself—the right to appear on the battlefield surrounded by his comrades.

We have just heard of the arrival of the first American unit on our front. All our hearts beat. With what joy our soldiers greeted the starry banner! You must know, Mr. President, more than ONE of our "poilus" asked his comrade, "But where is Roosevelt? I don't see him." It is to convey this remark to you, not knowing whether my message will reach you, that I have written this letter. . . . No other impulse impels me but the idea of what occupies your own mind.

M. Clemenceau has summed up adequately the strength of the inspiration which has now been dissipated.

We may remark that M. Clemenceau stands as high in France as Roosevelt does in this glorious commonwealth.

On account of the Grand Master being unable to be here the exercises on Saturday afternoon will be postponed, the other part of the program will be carried out as advertised by Mountain Lodge No. 187.

Hon. J. C. Bird, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for Judge of the Circuit Court was here last Tuesday, and spoke on Tuesday night at Artemus telling the boys how glad he would be if they would support him for the nomination.

Last Tuesday Hon. R. S. Rose and Hon. J. Fred Catron started out in a campaign of the county in a joint debate. They invite any and all who want to be Judge of the Circuit Court to join them in the speakings. We would judge that there will be some wool-pulling.

On the 31st, school closed at Union College, and Carl Haggard just to celebrate the occasion took Miss Minnie Simmons, and went to Jellico, Tenn., where they were quietly married. They came back to old Barbourville, however, where they will make their future home. They are both splendid young people, and we wish them many happy days.

MA says the way for a fellow to keep his face happy is to make his stomach smile occasionally. Pa says if there was a commandment, "Only good, square men get good, square meals," everybody would be on their good behavior.

To My Friends:—

I have decided for reasons entirely my own, that I will withdraw, from the race for Jailer. I withdraw in the interest of no candidate, and my friends will, as they have always done, exercise their freedom in selecting the man whom they will in the future support.

I very much appreciate the courtesy, loyalty and kindness extended to me by my friends and desire to say, that every candidate has treated me with the consideration due from one gentleman to another. I hope to be able in some measure to return my friends the favors and courtesies extended to me.

Very truly yours,
J. E. Sowders.

Forethought.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance: E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere.

The daughter of Mr. B. P. Walker is seriously ill at the home of her father on Allison Avenue, she is suffering with blood poisoning caused by a scratch from her shoe. She is only thirteen years old and on account of her age she may be able to combat the disease.

Francis M. Rees, A Through-Going Candidate for County Court Clerk, of Knox.

Being encouraged by many friends that I was fully qualified to fill a better paying office than that of County Surveyor, to come forth and ask the good people of Knox county once in life to give me so important an office as that of County Court Clerk.

So in June, 1915, nearly two years ago at which time I felt that I was not in any Republican friend's way, or any Republican friend in my way and in this way, and under these circumstances I started forth seeking the nomination for that office, to be decided by the Republican Primary Election, to be held on August 4th, 1917.

Being raised on a farm with a poor chance to obtain any book knowledge in those days following soon after the "Civil War" as you know, so at 21 years whilst I was well acquainted with the plow, the mattock, the ax, the maul and wedge and other farming tools by hard labor with hands, to pay for my raising, a debt all boys of those days were taught that they justly owed to their parents. But at 21 I could hardly write my name and possessed only an old "Blueback Speller," a New Testament, an old second hand School Reader, and one of Ayer's Almanacs and had gone as far as "Compound numbers" in Ray's part third Arithmetic. We then called them "Confounded numbers."

From thence I attended school entirely at my own expense, could only work a while, then go to school a while. First I attended a Winter and Spring Term. Subscription School at Barbourville, Ky., taught by Gov. James D. Black and Hon. John H. Wilson, of Barbourville. After that I attended Berea College at intervals for several years. Among my many studies I made penmanship a specialty and among my 21 Common Schools taught, I taught penmanship down on the ROCK BOTTOM so that each pupil could write and understand the systems well.

In the mean time of achieving qualification for public business I was made Chief Deputy Sheriff, thereby Chief Tax Collector at a very low compensation and during the hardest times for money ever been since the "Civil War" when my heart was made to bleed at the compulsion of having to crowd upon and collect the then $3.00 poll tax on the poor white man, and the $4.00 poll tax on the poor black man, as was the law. But I paid over every dollar and every dime promptly where it properly belonged and that was the best business plan I could follow.

I have run and been twice elected to the poor office of County Surveyor. The first term of four years to accommodate myself, but finding it by experience to be too poor an office for a man to forsake his farm or other business; therefore I run the second time for that office, chiefly for the great cause of meeting the wishes of my Knox county people at a sacrifice to myself by turning my back on farming to fill such a poor office, but as poor as it is, I have done the best I could in dividing lands among heirs and settling disputed lines, using no partiality between man and man, but all parties right and alike.

I now invite the good people of Knox county to go over the walks of my life both in office and out of office and if you can possibly believe me qualified with ability to fill such an office as County Court Clerk. If you can possibly believe me to be a sober man, and can possibly believe me to be an honest man, and can think it right and fair for a man now past into his sixties, who as County Surveyor, has waded the snows, been soaked with cold rains, and met the cold and stinging Winter's winds for the last seven or eight years by being caught out many miles from home at labor to now be taken in by the fire out of the blasts of winters one time in life and let other younger men take the out door labors in my stead and place one by your suffrage or vote in the County Court Clerk's office, and if you do, I will promise you to be as true, as faithful, as industrious and as honest in treating all parties as just and fair in that office as I ever treated my 1,500 school children that were placed under my care, and have ever treated my customers in running and settling their disputed lines as Surveyor and also promise that I would handle and pay over the $2,000 or any other sum of the public money that will be placed in the County Court Clerk's hands annually as true as I did as tax collector and paymaster of same.

Very truly,

FRANCIS M. REES.

Saves Eggs

Royal Baking Powder makes it possible to produce appetizing and wholesome cakes, muffins, cornbread, etc., with fewer eggs than are usually required.

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced and excellent results obtained by adding an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following tested recipe is a practical illustration:

SPONGE CAKE
 DIRECTIONS.—Beat sugar and water until syrupy; add a third and add to the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, beating until the mixture is cold. Sift together three times the flour, salt and baking powder; beat yolk of egg until thick; add a little at a time flour mixture and egg yolk alternately to white of egg mixture, stirring after each addition. Add 1/4 cup cold water and flavoring. Mix lightly and bake in moderate oven one hour.

The old method called for 6 eggs and no baking powder

TRAGEDY AT MIDDLESBORO

"Red" Rains Kills One Man, Wounds Two Others and Makes His Escape.

A special from Middlesboro, says: Ross Baker, twenty-one, is dead, and his brother, Frank Baker, twenty-three, is mortally wounded with a bullet in his breast, and Ed Roe was seriously wounded at the Baker home near Middlesboro Sunday morning. "Red" Rains is charged with the shooting. Some time ago the Baker boys' sister was engaged to marry the Rains boy, his mind became affected and he was sent to an institution for the insane. He returned a few weeks back and went to see the Baker girl, and she told him she had decided to marry.

He went to the Baker home yesterday morning, taking his license with him, and told the girl she had to marry him, and she and her brother began to protest, when Rains pulled a revolver and began shooting at everything in sight.

Deputy Sheriff Thompson located Rains in the woods near the Tennessee line Sunday night, but Rains had the drop on him with his gun and backed off and left Thompson, at the same time admonishing Thompson, if he moved he would kill him.

Boyd Hays Dead.

Word reached here on last Monday of the death of Boyd Hays, at Boulder, Colorado, which occurred at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The news of his death came as a shock to his many friends and relatives in this county.

M. Hays went to Colorado in March, suffering with tuberculosis, in the hope that the change of climate would assist him in overcoming the ravages of the disease. His wife, who accompanied him to the west, had notified relatives here that his condition did not improve, but the physicians continued to hold out hope for his recovery. A short time ago his condition grew worse and his brother, Will Hays, left for the west and was with him when he died.

The deceased is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of Garrett Wilson, and a large number of relatives. The remains left Colorado on Monday and reached Barbourville Wednesday afternoon where they were taken to the home of his father, Sam Hays. The interment was on Thursday.—Pineville Sun.

Last Tuesday the 5th, was registration day, and 388 registered in the City, and more than 1,700 in the whole county.

Knox county has always done her part when the country called upon her for assistance. In the war of 1848, when Mexico had to be "Spanked" she sent some of her good men to the front; in the years of 1860-'61, when the immortal Lincoln said this country should continue a Union, Knox county sent more than her part of the soldiers to keep the flag of this Nation in the air; in 1893, when McKinley sent out the call two companies of the best and bravest rushed to arms.

In this year, had President Wilson sent out the call for volunteers, we are sure that Knox county would have come to the front with more than her part of the men to go to France, and there to lay their lives upon the altar of their country.

Out of the 1,700 we are told that there will be selected about 300 who will be trained before they depart for the foreign lands, let them be whoever they may, they will make the kind of soldiers that it takes to win the battles of the land of the free and the home of the brave.

We have already many who are in the service, some went as volunteers rather than go as having to be conscripted. Twenty-four left last Sunday night with Captain Dishman, and out of that number 21 passed the examination and were accepted and sworn into service.

Bowel Complaints In India.

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Ia., churches, a missionary from India, told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventative and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occurs in this country. Obtainable everywhere.

Everywhere under the sun—wherever roofs are laid—Certain-teed stands for these two things:

Efficiency Economy

CERTAIN-TEED roofing is the most efficient and economical type of roof for factories, office buildings, farm buildings, garages, etc., because the first cost is less than that of metal, wood shingles, or tar and gravel. This is particularly so now, because of the present high prices of some of the materials. CERTAIN-TEED costs less to lay than any other kind of roof. It will not rust, is not affected by fumes, gases and acids, coal smoke, etc.; it is light weight and fire retardant. Every rain washes it clean; and it does not melt or run under the hot rays of the sun, nor can it clog gutters and down spouts.

Certain-teed Roofing is the best quality of prepared roofing. It pays to get the best. The only difference between the first cost of a good roof and a poor one is in the materials—the labor, freight, etc., costs the same in both. As CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply) it will be in splendid condition years after a poor quality roof has to be replaced.

For residences, Slate Surfaced Asphalt Shingles have all the advantages of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing, plus artistic beauty; not bulky, and are uniform in weight, quality and appearance. They need no paint, are pliable, eliminate waste and misfit, cannot curl, buckle, rot or crack. Guaranteed for ten years. Investigate CERTAIN-TEED before deciding on any type of roof. For sale by dealers everywhere.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are good, reliable products made by experienced paint men, who have at their command all the machinery, equipment, materials and resources necessary to manufacture good paints and varnishes economically—as well as the extensive selling organization and warehouse system of the Certain-teed Products Corporation, which materially reduces marketing costs. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. It will pay you to see that you get CERTAIN-TEED Paints and Varnishes. Any good dealer can sell them to you or get them for you.

WE TOLD YOU SO

Some weeks we gave an account of the speaking at the Court House by the candidates for Circuit Judge.

We showed how R. S. Rose ran J. C. Bird through the thrashing machine and mommoked him up so that his own mother would't have known him.

And we predicted that that would be the last joint debate between R. S. Rose and J. C. Bird in this campaign; for we felt satisfied that Bird's friends and backers would never let R. S. Rose get his hands on their pet again if they could help it.

Our prediction has been fulfilled sooner than we expected.

A night or two ago R. S. Rose was on the train going from Corbin to Barbourville.

J. C. Bird, without letting Rose know anything about it or inviting him to be present had spoken at Grays, a d, at Emanuel, a small station between Gray's and Barbourville, got on the same train Rose was on.

Rose was sitting on a seat beside a lady, and when Bird came down the aisle in the train Rose spoke to him pleasantly and courteously and asked him where he was going.

Bird, who seemed to be in a bad humor, flatly replied that it was none of Rose's business.

Being with a lady Rose could not resent this insult and simply replied "All right, No offense."

When Rose got off the train at Barbourville he learned that Bird had spoken at Artemus that on the phone at the Gibson House at Artemus and asked him for a division of time, and a joint discussion at Artemus and that Bird should meet him [Rose] Mr. Catron and Mr. Lay and make out a list of speaking dates over the three counties in the District.

Bird refused to grant a division of time and a joint discussion at Artemus and refused to meet the other candidates to arrange for the list of speaking dates over the district, saying that Rose and the others could make their own dates and go where they pleased and he would do the same.

The reason he gave for his refusal was that he didn't propose to draw a crowd for Rose to speak to, and that Rose couldn't draw a crowd for himself; which seemed as plausible as his statement that he didn't want Rose to quit the track; which he made in the Court House on the first day of Circuit Court when Rose offered to quit the track if he [Bird] would give a definition of a contract, or pleadings, of equity, of eligibility or name the subjects an applicant for a law license is examined on.

In the meantime Mr. Catron issued a challenge to the other candidates to meet and prepare a list of speaking dates over the District for the candidates for Circuit Judge and Representative.

This challenge Rose promptly accepted.

Bird had already refused it, just as he refused to accept Catron's challenge for an examination of the four of them touching their knowledge of law and the duties of Circuit Judge, which Catron made on the first day of our Circuit Court; and just as he had refused Rose's challenge to quit the track if he (Bird) would show that he knew even a little law.

At this writing (Wednesday noon) Mr. Lay has not been located and it is not known whether he will accept the challenge or not.

We sincerely hope he will.

We would hate to believe that there is two men on the track for Circuit Judge in this great District who are afraid or ashamed to meet their opponents on the stump and let the people see them all together and compare them one with the other before voting, between them.

Some of Bird's friends are all ready saying that they thought he was a Gamecock Bird; but will have to change their views and believe him only a Dunghill Bird.

We understand that Messrs. Rose and Catron have made out a list of speaking dates over the district advertising candidates for Circuit Judge and Representative to speak at certain times and places and inviting all the candidates for those offices to be present and take part.

We hope that it is true.

And we hope Mr. Lay will accept the invitation and that Mr. Bird will see the folly of his course and come along with the others.

For the people who are to do the voting have a right to see all the candidates together, ask them any questions they may want to, notice how each one of them behaves himself etc., and find out for themselves which one they think would make the best Circuit Judge before they come to vote between them.

The candidate who hopes to sneak into office by making the people believe that he is what he knows he is not; or by making the people believe he is not what he knows himself to be, and who deliberately refuses to give the people a chance to find out for themselves what he is and what he is not will have mighty rough sledding on the fourth day of next August.

And he ought to have, for he is asking the people to give him a high office and salary of $4,200 per year, and to deny the people a chance to find out whether he is fit and worthy for the place is too much like getting goods under false pretenses to suit the honest good people of the district.

But even at that, you can't blame Mr. Bird very much. His fierce hunger for office has kept him running for everything in sight, from Police Judge of Williamsburg to Congress on the Progressive ticket—kept him running ever since anybody can remember—and still keeps him running. He never got there but once; and that $4200.00 salary looks mighty good.

But even for all that he'd rather lose the office and the salary than go up against that buzz saw Rich Rose, again.

Besides, he knows that Lincoln once said that a man may fool all the people some of the time, and that sounds hopeful to him.

But he knows also, that the only chance under heaven he has to do that is to deny the people a chance to see and hear himself and Rose on the same stump at the same time—a chance to take the measure of each one of them as to ability, character, qualifications and fitness for Circuit Judge.

If you wanted an office as badly as he has always wanted one, you might be tempted to do the same thing, Mr. Reader; even if it does look like obtaining goods under false pretenses.

Everybody is compelled to admire the courage, candor and honesty of R. S. Rose all through this campaign.

He promptly accepted Mr. Catron's proposition that they all be examined as to their qualifications for Circuit Judge and that the man making the highest grade be the candidate and all the rest quit.

He offered to Mr. Bird to quit the track and let him (Bird) be elected—as he surely would be if Rose were not running—if he (Bird) would show to the people in that crowded court house that he knew even a little of the simplest part of law.

And now, so far from trying to hide out in the brush and bushwhack, he is asking Mr. Bird and all the other candidates to come out in the open, to go, all together, before the people, let the people see and hear them all together and thus give them a chance to satisfy themselves who they want to vote for.

What a contrast between his course and that of Mr. Bird, who refused to be examined as to his qualifications; refused to try to answer even so simple a question as to what subjects an applicant for a law license is examined on, and is now refusing to give the voters a chance to see and hear him and the other candidates on the same stump in order that they may measure them all up and decide for themselves who they want.

If Mr. Bird were deliberately trying to convince the people that he knows that he isn't qualified, fit or worthy to be Circuit Judge we would ask how under heaven he would go about it in any other way than the way he has been doing?

If his actions don't say louder than thunder that he knows he isn't qualified, but hopes to fool enough people to be elected by staying away from the other candidates, whom he knows to be qualified, what do they say? And if R. S. Rose's actions don't say that he believes himself to be qualified, but is willing for the people to measure him up and decide whether he is or not, what do they say.—Advertisement.

Reasons!

Why you should use Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles, have been shown in thousands of letters from actual users of this medicine, who speak from personal experience. If the results obtained by other women for so many years have been so uniformly good, why not give Cardui a trial?

Church Ordination Postponed.

The ordination of the Elders and Deacons of the Church of Christ, which announced for Sunday, June 10th, is postponed until Sunday, June 17, on account of Masonic Memorial Services.

DEATH

Last Thursday morning, Mrs. Josie Catron, wife of Bert Catron, was operated upon in the City of Atlanta, Ga., and died immediately after the operation. The remains were brought back home, arriving last Friday morning and taken to her home. Mrs. Catron was 32 years old and was the mother of nine children, eight of whom are yet living. She was a Christian and a member of the M. E. Church, and her last words to friends was that she was prepared to live if it was the will of God, if not, she was ready to die; all this we believe, for her life was to all appearances the kind that does not fear the pangs of death, and there is no doubt but that she is today basking in the sunbeams around the great White Throne.

Her funeral was held last Saturday at the First M. E. Church, where she worshipped and the interment was in the City Cemetery. She leaves a heart-broken and loving husband, eight children, three brothers and three sisters and a mother, besides a host of friends and neighbors to mourn that she should be taken from among them, but their loss is her eternal and happy gain. We tender to the heartbroken husband and little ones our tenderest sympathy and assure them that the whole community joins with us in saying to them, that though they are left alone, that the mother and wife they loved is in a better land.

Hays

Mr. Boyd Hays, died last Sunday in Boulder, Colorado, where he had gone in the hope of regaining his health, he having suffered for sometime with that dread disease Tuberculosis. He was a little more than 33 years old, the son of Sam Hays, who lives near the L. & N. Depot, the funeral was held at the residence of his father yesterday at 10:00 o'clock a. m. and was buried in the City Cemetery. Young Mr. Hays was a splendid young man, and will be sadly missed by his many friends and relatives.

Judge Black Looks Over Ground.

Lieut. Gov. James D. Black, of Barbourville, who came to Louisville to address a law graduating class, is the first avowed aspirant for the Democratic nomination for Governor two years hence, and he put in some time looking over the situation here with that end in view. In his race for Lieutenant Governor two years ago, Judge Black had the support of the local organization leaders, and a sharp contest followed between him and Judge James P. Edwards for the Fifth district vote.—Louisville Ky. Times May 22, 1917.

TO THE VOTERS OF KONX COUNTY.

I have for sometime been a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff of Knox county, and have had no announcement in the columns of the Advocate for sometime. It is hard for any man to see all the voters of the whole county, it is in area and has many people. I take this method to ask support of my fellow citizens to this office, and it is proper that they should know all about me, let that be good or bad.

I was born in Knox county and have lived here all my life except 18 months that I was in the West. I was raised on a farm and was educated in the public schools of this county. I am amply qualified to fill the position with credit to myself and with honor to my county and state. I am a poor man, and work hard for the support of my family; I need the office and never having filled any office I feel that it is my time to have a turn at the public crib; why keep one man or set of men in office all their lives? If some men were to die would the management of the affairs of the county have to come to a stop? I think not, there are many men as well qualified as I or my opponents to fill this place, but it looks as though some people think and believe that there are only a few that can do this work or that they have a lease on the public offices of the county as long as they live, and when they are all dead and gone then it will be that some one else will have a chance to fill some of the offices of the county.

I am running this race on my own merits, I would not have the office on the merits of some one else; I want to say that if nominated and elected that I will serve all the people without regard to who you are, where you live, your race color or politics. No man has any mortgage on me, I am free without any collar of the rich or poor about me, and I can and will make such an officer that you will feel proud of.

I earnestly solicit your support, and promise that I will do all in an honorable way to win this nomination, and if elected will always feel grateful to you for your support and remember you in the way of making an officer that will not bring disgrace to myself or my county.

Yours very truly,
J. L. Westerfield.

Why you should use Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles, have been shown in thousands of letters from actual users of this medicine, who speak from personal experience. If the results obtained by other women for so many years have been so uniformly good, why not give Cardui a trial?

Who Does The Work?

Frank J. Mitchell

It has been the rounds that I have been helping to manipulate the selection of the juries of Knox County, and that I have had too much to do in the election and filling of the jury wheel. I want to say that whoever tells any such bosh as this is woefully ignorant, reckless with the truth. I do not want any one to take my word alone, but I want them to ask J. R. Jones, Ex Circuit Court Clerk; W. H. McDonald, Ex Circuit Court Clerk or S. H. Jones, the present Circuit Court Clerk who selects the juries and how it is done. Ask them if the Jailer of the County has one thing to do with the selection of the jurors or the filling of the jury wheel.

This is done by three commissioners, selected by the Circuit Judge of the District, who are sworn to do the duties according to law. This provides that the wheel shall be filled by these commissioners behind closed doors, and that no one shall be informed as to who is in the wheel, and after the wheel is filled they draw a jury for the next term of court, then this is sealed in an envelope and delivered to the Clerk who is sworn not to open it until twenty days before the commencement of the term of Court that it was drawn for. This is delivered the Sheriff who summons the jurors.

It has been told that I had something to do with the dismissal of the jury and the selection of a new jury at the January term of Court. If this can be substantially proven I will quit the track.

IT IS ABSOLUTELY FALSE. I have never had anything to do with the selection of the juries of the courts of this county and have never suggested to the Sheriff who should be selected. Any man who tells this does so with the hope of injuring me in my race for the nomination for the office of Jailer of this county. But the people of this county know me, I was born and raised here. I have always tried to be a law abiding man, I have tried to attend to my own business and to do the most good I could for all my friends.

I say there is not a word of truth in all this bosh. I want my friends to remember that I am the strongest candidate in the field for this nomination and that there will be all kinds of yarns that will be started to injure me but PAY NO ATTENTION TO THEM. THEY ARE GROUNDLESS.

Hoping to be able to see you in your homes and talk to you personally, and that you will give me your hearty support in this matter, I am that a little while ago a brother-in-law of Mr. Bird was the Executor of a will.

He consulted with Mr. Bird about some provisions of the will; and Mr. Bird sent him to this lawyer to have him bring a suit to sell a house and lot the dead man had owned. And yet, THE

WILL EXPLICITLY PROVIDED THAT THE EXECUTOR SHOULD SELL THE PIECE OF PROPERTY!

Mr. Bird evidently thought it took a suit in court and a judgment to sell the property; but knew that he didn't know how to bring the suit, and so, sent him to the other lawyer.

We heard a responsible citizen of Williamsburg, standing on the street and in a crowd, say:—If Mr. Bird will show a single petition in any case in either Knox, Whitley, McCreary or any other county which he drew and filed by himself and without help from some other lawyer I'll give him $50.00.

If he will show a single answer in any case which he prepared himself and without help from some other lawyer I'll give him $50.00.

Or if he will show a single pleading in any case which he prepared and filed in any case without help from some one else I'll give him $50.00.

Mr. Good Citizen, anybody can sit in the Circuit Judge's chair and draw a $4,200.00 salary.

But it takes a lawyer—not a commissary clerk—to do the work of that office and do it right—do it fairly, justly, impartially and intelligently.

That's the way you want it done, isn't it?

If you do want it done that way why not pay our $4,200.00 to a man like R. S. Rose, whom everybody knows, can and will do it that way?

We tried putting an unqualified man into office when we put Mr. Bird in as County Attorney. It was pretty expensive, wasn't it?

Do you think it would be wise to try it on a bigger scale?

Why, when Silas Lawson was Mr. Bird's opponent for County Attorney in 1913, he made this proposition to him:—"Mr. Bird, if you will sit down here and now draw up a petition in a suit on a plain note of hand that will stand before any qualified Judge I'll quit the track and let you be elected." Mr. Bird was then finishing a term of four years as County Attorney in which he ought to have learned at least how to sue on a plain note of hand. But he evidently didn't know how, for he refused Lawson's proposition just as he refused Catron's.

Mr. Good Citizen, if you believe our Circuit Judge ought to be a lawyer you certainly cannot believe that Mr. Bird ought to be Circuit Judge.—Adv.
